Fly To Tooraweenah Weekend! August, 17th & 18th

The Arthur Butler Aviation Museum (ABAM) Committee, invite all locals and friends to come down to the aerodrome to welcome visitors from far and wide as they fly into our aerodrome. There will be a BBQ breakfast and coffee van available for all to enjoy.

Our visitors from the sky will fly in for the day, stay in town over night or camp under the wing. Full details in the flyer on page (6).

ABAM local pilot Kooper Fox is pictured left in his historical Norde, a former French Airforce training plane from the 1950's. Kooper and the Norde will be back for the weekend 17th and 18th of August. Lots to see and enjoy.

Celebrate Education Week with us! Thursday Aug 8th

We are very excited to welcome families and community members to the school for our annual Grandparent's Day on Thursday August 8th as we celebrate Education Week.

We have a morning packed with events including open classrooms, film screening and live performances, and we would love to have you join us.

This year we would like to welcome School and Preschool families to our open classrooms from 9:30am to see first-hand Tooraweenah Public School's explicit instruction warm-ups in action (9:30am K/1 and 9:45am 2/3/5.)

10:00am in the 2/3/5 classroom.

There will be a screening of the Tooraweenah Public School's film which was entered into the Gilgandra Film Festival earlier this year.

Activities conclude with a combined school and preschool concert at 10:30am followed by morning tea. Tea and coffee will be available from the mobile Country Coffee Cart.

The Book Fair is open from the 5th to the 8th of August during school hours. Please, check out page 4 for all the details.

Tennis Coaching

Sam Trickey

During July, students and teachers alike, enjoyed a fun filled day of tennis coaching lessons with Rodney Kirk, from JSP Sport Development based in Narrabri. Students practiced their skills and had lessons in correct grip and stroke techniques, using forehands, backhands, volleys and smashes.

Taekwondo

In the 2nd last week of school we had the final lesson of our 6 week Taekwondo program with instructor David from Fit-For-It, Taekwondo Academy in Tamworth. During these lessons, students not only learnt about the physical aspects of the sport but also the five tenets that underpin the sport: courtesy, integrity, perseverance, self-control and indomitable spirit. It was a wonderful experience to try something new and learn a new sport.

New School Fence

Work is underway on our new school fence. Trees have been removed, electrical and plumbing services located and trenched, and form work completed and concrete poured. Work continued throughout the holidays. We thank you for your patience as the egg fridge and school parking have been temporarily impacted.

Positive Behaviour for Learning (PBL) Celebration

Students enjoyed a whole school celebration on Friday 5th July (last day of school) for their PBL Celebration. The students loved the opportunity to be out of uniform for the day and enjoyed some hands-on play in the morning which included Lego play, puzzles and fun with kinetic sand. In the afternoon they enjoyed movies with popcorn and time with technology. Students also brought their favourite toys from home to play with during the day and they all enjoyed some birthday cake celebrating Maddi's birthday.

Book Fair

During Week 3 Term 3, from Monday August 5th to Thursday August 8th, there will be a Book Fair in the Tooraweenah Public School Library. Students may browse the book fair during break times and parents are welcome to call in any time during school hours on those days.

Education Week

We are very excited to welcome families and community members to the school for our annual Grandparent's Day on Thursday 8th August.

We have a morning packed with events including open classrooms, film screening and live performances, and would love you to join us.

This year we would like to welcome School and Preschool families to our open classrooms from 9:30am to see first-hand Tooraweenah Public School's explicit instruction warm-ups in action (9:30am K/1 and 9:45am 2/3/5.)

10:00am in the 2/3/5 classroom, there will be a screening of Tooraweenah Public School's film which was entered into the Gilgandra Film Festival earlier this year.

There will be a combined school and preschool concert at 10:30am followed by morning tea.

Tea and coffee will be available from the mobile Country Coffee Cart.

Lions Roar - Change Over Celebration

PRESIDENTS REPORT

In 1979 a group of locals banded together to establish the Tooraweenah Lions Club which was chartered by Coonabarabran Lions Club.

Fast forward 45 years: Tooraweenah Lions has three charter members still in the club; Kevin Milgate, Sir Jack Parkes and Don Zell. All have been stalwarts of our community. We now have 20 members.

Throughout the last 12 months our club's donations total $10,872, with 833 hours of volunteer community service.

We have welcomed Michael 'Dominic' White as a new member to our club. Sadly we lost Brian Armstrong as a member, a true 'gentleman' in our Lions family. May Brian rest in peace.

Fun and fellowship, sometimes a tad disrespectful but in good humour, is a hallmark of Toora Lions' activities. These range from woodcuts, catering at clearing sales, Gilgandra Show, Tooraweenah Show, Australia Day event and at our local Mountain View Hotel, as well as organising Christmas raffles, fundraising and hosting our annual Senior Citizens Lunch.

This year Jan Robertson was awarded Tooraweenah Lions Senior Citizen of the Year.

We have a membership group who are multi skilled, although the quality is often the subject of some debate!! Together with the Tooraweenah Show Society we hosted a charity golf day, well supported with numbers exceeding all expectations. The Bradman trophy was, as always, hotly contested.

The Cool room and porta-loo hire have been a revenue source – thank you to Lester as chief co-ordinator.

We have catered for two working dog training schools organised by Oakfield Kelpies' breeder, Lion Brendan Butler. Toora Lions distributed three educational scholarships to local students.

In a change to tradition, we held the club's inaugural Changeover Long Lunch Quiz last year, with $2500 donated to community groups and charitable organisations. These are examples of the activities Toora Lions club members and friends undertake and achieve as a volunteer community service organisation based in Tooraweenah, the gateway to the Warrumbungle National Park.

Welcome and well wishes to our incoming executive pictured below: Brendan Butler as President, Tanya Hutchison as Secretary and Jane Gesell as Treasurer.

Tooraweenah Preschool, 'Developing Wings of Independence' With Marie Gale (Jacobsen)

We are excited to be back and hearing about our preschool friends holiday adventures, with some friends having 'big' holidays and finding the sun, others finding the snow and others just keeping warm!

This term we welcome our new preschool friend, Parker, and his family into our preschool community. We look forward to seeing Parker at Preschool each week for fun and play.

Oscar, Ben & Matilda buisy at the farm

We have a busy first few weeks with our Gulargambone Preschool friends coming over in Week 3 on Wednesday August 7th to enjoy a day at Toora Preschool and experience Bush Preschool with us. This had been planned for the last week of Term 2, but with such dreadful winter weather we had to postpone it until now. Let's hope the weather is kind and we get to enjoy Bush Preschool on a sunny day.

Hannah, Aria, Ben & Sophie working on their performance props, Malia enjoying collage at the back table.

We are preparing for our performance of the story "Brown Bear, Brown Bear, What Do You See?" for Tooraweenah Public School and Preschool combined celebrations for Education Week, with our special Grandparents Day to be held on Thursday August 8th, commencing at 10.30am. We know this story and are busily making and creating our special 'concert props'.

A very buisy fuel station, with Maggie refuelling friends as they went by on their bikes.

We have been including both Key Word Sign Language and Wiradjuri language in our songs, dances and poems, with children showing us their amazing memory skills when naming the various Australian animals in our songs and finger plays. The 'Wiradjuri Language' app on the I pad has been a great help with the words and the pronunciation of the different words we are learning. Miss Marie and Miss Kristy have also undergone training in Key Word Sign to ensure we are using the correct signs with our preschool friends.

There was huge excitement to discover that over the holidays our new plants in the garden have been flourishing and are flowering beautifully. They look amazing, as does our new black fence around preschool and school.

Some new sandpit toys also arrived for the children to enjoy along with new dress-ups for boys and girls, made by Miss Marie's mum. Some of them have colourful pictures and transfers on them. The broken 'boundary' gate on the small farm yards has also been fixed and given the stamp of approval by all of our preschool farmers.

We continue to enjoy reading with big school friends each Thursday, as well as Bush Preschool each week on alternate Wednesdays and Fridays, with the assistance of a parent/family helper joining us for outside the gate' adventure. The children really enjoy Bush Preschool and have paid a great deal of attention to the various things in nature, particularly how the creek seems to constantly change, the baby birds in the trees and how many yabby claws they find among the rocks. We were very excited to check if our 'stone cities' we built before the holidays were still there after our break, or if the horses had used them as 'jumps' and maybe knocked them over. The children are helping us to develop our new Preschool Philosophy by sharing with us their thoughts about what they enjoy about preschool. It will be great to include their voices in this new and updated document that is so paramount to all that we do at Tooraweenah Preschool.

Celebrating Oscar's 4th Birthday with friends, everyone enjoying yummy cup cakes.

From The Dog House - with Brendan Butler

Most dog trainers, myself included, are probably guilty of expecting too much too soon from our young dogs. Whether they are work dogs or pets. We just presume that they will pick up and learn our basic commands easily.

Most farmers are time poor and lack the necessary skills to be able to start a young work dog the right way, with a small contained yard and quiet sheep that can't outrun the pup. Our first lesson should be to get the young dog to balance the sheep to us and learn to bring them to us. This is working with the dogs natural instinct to want to go to the head of a mob and bring them, rather than push them away.

Very often what we do with our young dogs is take them out with some older dogs and expect the dogs to drive the sheep away from us, when the young dogs instinct is to want to go and get them and bring them to us.

Pushing sheep away whether it be in a paddock or in the yards, while a skill the dogs need to be able to do, is not instinctive, and has to be taught properly. Driving sheep away is what is known as working off balance, and it is usually taught once the young dogs have a good grasp of the other commands, such as the left and right sides and a proper stop.

Teaching a young dog to drive is usually done where you can push the sheep towards a target, for example, yards or shearing shed, with a good fence on one side and the Stockman on the other side of the mob. Even in this situation, we start with the dog bringing the stock to us and we slowly drop back to the back of the mob so that Stockman and Dog are behind the stock.

This drill also needs to be repeated regularly to let the dog know what the expected outcome is going to be. For example, getting the sheep to the yard.

Letting a young dog learn on the job with a couple of older dogs is just asking for trouble, because the dogs will just want to compete with each other, won't concentrate on what they're doing, and will take no notice of what they are being asked to do, such as go left, right or stop. The end result of this is that we have no control, and leads to screaming at the dogs and total frustration for everyone.

Like most workers in a business a work dog is no different and has to be trained properly from the very start, at a level that it's maturity can handle, so time and patience is a necessity to get a happy dog and handler. Happy Mustering.
